Bluch Ado About Little

The few remarks dropped by M: Joseph W. Trutch at the banquet given to him in Ottawa, to the effect that Brit Columbia will not be disposed to enforce the fulfilment of the terms of union, as agreed upon by the Dominion Cablest and the Delegates from British Columbia, seem to have produced a senfeeling of unensiness lest the Canadians. having worked the Confederation oracle. may feel disposed to go back on the Terms, and not give us a railway in the time agreed upon. We see no grounds for slarming apprehensions in what Mr. Trutch gave utterance to. Having pro-bably imbibed a larger measure of champagne than was good for him, he let loose his "anruly member" and said what he had no business to say,—but he simply spoke as an individual, and not as an official representative of British Columbia. When they are the simply spoke as an individual, and not as an official representative of British Columbia. Why, then, certain croakers amongst as should jump at the conclusion that the Canadian Government will repudiate their agreement touching the construction of the railway, we are at a loss to understand. We question whether such an idea has ever entered the head of a Canadian statesman, and certainly did any one entertain such s thought, and express it openly, he would be booted from the ranks of either politial party as unworthy the association of gentlemen. To give the Dominion Cabinet at once and distinctly to understand QUEEN'S that Mr. Trutch, in the remarks which he is reported to have uttered, spoke not the sentiments of the people of this colony, will be simply discharging a duty which the circumstances of the case demand, without conveying any suspicions what-ever that British Columbians doubt the integrity of the Dominion Government or have the most remote apprehension that His they will not both in letter and in spirit they will not both in letter and in spirit do all that they have agreed to. Already have the Canadian authorities included in the Supplementary Estimates for this year a large sum of money for the purpose of making surveys for the route, which we take to be an earnest of their good intentions to carry out their agreement with the least delay possible. It is impossible to foresee what complications may arise in the course of ten years to retard the prosecution of so vast an enterprise, but nothing short of a war in which the Dominion would be a reluctant participator, would suffice to excuse the non-falfilment of the contract on the part of Canada. The faith of the Do minion is solemnly pledged in this mat-ter, and our confidence in the moral and political integrity of the gentlemen who at present control its affairs, dispels all sion as to their determin teep their word and redeem their pledges. Besides, let it not be understood that the railway is to be built for our benefit alone. The Province of Manitoba has even a greater interest in its construction than British Columbia, and for any Administration to show disposition to put the matter off beyond the period agreed upon, would be almost certain to result in its complete over-throw. The railway is a Dominional pecessity; it is also a British Columbian accessity; and notwithstanding the afterdinner aberrations of Mr. J. W. Trutch. it must be built, and that, too, in ten years from the date of our admission into

of English journalism to compare with the special cable reports of battles and incidents of the late war which American papers obtained last year; but English papers are usually so deliberate in getting and publishing the details of news that a recent expensive and clumsy act of enterprise deserves repeating. Dr. Russell of the London Times and an assistant rode into Paris on Wednesday morning, March 1, with the Prussians.

They left Paris by a special train for Calais at 2,50 P.M. Thence a special steamboat conveyed their dispatches across the Channel to Dover, where again a special train was waiting to take the dispatches to London. The Times office was reached at 1.15 a.m. of Thursday, ten hours and twenty-five minutes after the letters left Paris, and the account of the German entry was published in the first regular edition of Thursday It is not stated how much the Times was obliged to pay for its enterprise, but it could not have been a very small sum. It involved the cost of two special raiance of 254 miles and the use of a steam. boat for a trip of twenty-two miles across the boisterous Channel. If the same problem had been given to be worked out by an American reporter, he would have obtained the quickest conveyance to the nearest station where the telegraph was in complete working order, and would have made free use of the wires. It does been very distant from Paris, inasmuch Real Estate Tax Commissionas a long report of the same scene was sent over the slow-working cable, and distributed to American papers all over the country in season for publication on Thursday morning.—American paper

PR. MILLS BOWDEN.—THROUGH THE Medium of the Standard I want to state the very great good that has been done me by you. One year ago I was unfortunate enough to lose my palate. I tried many persons without beneficial effect until I went to you, when I was supplied with an artificial palate which has given entire satisfaction. I recommend any person similarly afflicted, or requiring anything in the Dental line, to call upon you.

BAD TEMPLARS .- At the Police Court, Glasgow, a few weeks back, two men named Samuel Allison and James Erskine, tailors, were charged with being drunk and incapable on the previous night. Both men stated that they were Good Templers, but having been induced to "touch, taste, and handle." they had got the worse of drink. They promised, with tears, that if the Bailie would let them go they would again take the pledge. Upon this promise they were dismissed. Next day, however, the pair were again found by the police in a helpless state of drunkenness, and were again brought before the Court. Bailie Neill said that as they had not kept the promise given him on the previous day, he would fine them in 5s. or 24 hours' imprisonment.

A CAVE .- Yesterday morning, whilst and Lever's novels—all printed in good clear type and handsomely bound. This purchase makes a very handsome addition to the present catalogue of books in the Library. The Institute deserves the support of the public at the present time more than at any former period. It has been mooted by some of the members of management, that this, the most most and beneficial association in the city, will have to be closed if more interest be not party of men were at work on Leneveu's wharf, a portion of it suddenly caved in, in consequence of the piles being eaten away.

In pro-posing the above resolutions Mr. Kay made the following remarks: "What would they think of the man, who owning a farm, would engage or discharge the 'hands,' and go to his till without (the farmer's) sanction and against his will? and what would they think of the law that would compel the tarmer to do this and to keep on his foreman and labor-ers whether he wished it or not? Looking upon the colonists as a farmer, the governor as the foreman, and the officials as the 'hands,' this was exactly the position in which the government wished to place the colony through the Permanent Civil List Bill?" Mr. George Dunne seconded. Several spoke in condemnation of the Bill, and the resolutions being put from the chair, they were unanimonsly accepted. A Vote of thanks was passed to the chairman and secretary, and to Mr. Dunne for the use of his bar-room for the occasion. Mr. Dunne then proposed with a few brief and appropriate remarks a vote of thanks to Mr. Kay for the public spirit he had shown in bringing this important matter before the settlers. This was seconded by Mr. Henry Bowman and carried with an unanimous and hearty 'aye.' Mr. Kay thanked the meeting and said be was simply doing his duty. He (Mr. Kay) accepted this vote as a token that they were thoroughly aroused to the importance of taking an active part in the government of the colony to which they were entitled by their intelligent and manly qualities. He felt proud of the farmers for at ending to their public duties, especially when he remembered how inconvenient it was for them to do so at this busy season. He should never despair of a country peopled by such men!" After some desultory talk, during which the ques-tion was mooted as to the advisability of sub-

Beriah Brown, on the 4th inst., recovered judgment in the 4th District Court, against the city and county of San Francisco, for 13 to 5.

A special meeting of the Scottish Central Association of Schoolmasters was held on March 4, when it was agreed to petition Particular and the frame the Scotch Education Bill; lisment to frame the Scotch Education Bill; that the central board be formed of Scotch-men to meet in Edinburgh; that the local board should be the town councils of burghs, and that in rural parishes the ratepayers should elect persons rateable at £25, and by a majority; that the religious question should not be settled by Act of Parliament; that the amendment—or a total of 160. Of the 21 votes of absent members, or members who had paired, 11 would have voted with the Government, so that the relative numerical strength of the two parties would not have been materially changed in a full House. Taking an analysis of the votes by Provinces, which is an old and favorite method of com-putin the strength of a division, we find that the Government had a majority from case, the Presbytery sustain the finding, and approve the proceedings taken by the session and its moderator." The motion was agreed to without a division, Mr. Robertson, howto embarrass and defeat the Government.

Among the number there were eight who generally vote with the Government and are reckoned as of its supporters, and who perhaps, knowing that the Government was certain to receive a majority without their votes, were seized with a fit of independence probably having in view the general election of 1827.

Meigle Free Presbytery met at Blairgowrie the other day, the Rev. Mr. Robertson, of Cray, moderator. The appeal of Mr. John Robert-son against the finding of the Coupar-Augus that the Government had a majority from every Province but one. The tollowing is kirk-session in its sentence of excommunica-ios was heard. Mr. Robertson appeared on his own behalf, the session being represented by the Rev. Mr. Bain and Mr. Smart, elder. 33; Quebec, 41; Nova Scotta, v. New Brunswick, 5; and Manitoba, 1. Total, 94. For Mr. Mackenzie's amendment: Outario, 36; Quebec, 20; Nova Scotta 9; and New Brunswick, 7—total, 66. But this, while exhibiting the numerical strength of the parties, his own behalf, the session being represented by the Rev. Mr. Bain and Mr. Smart, elder. Mr. Robertson lodged lengthened reasons for appeal, and spoke upwards of an hour in de-fence of his position, maintaining that from their irregalarity the proceedings of the ses-sion ought to be cancelled by the Presbytery. Mr. Bain followed in his own and session's defence, characterising the judgment passed as just and righteous Thereafter, the Rev. Mr. Baxter, Blairgowrie, proposed—"That having heard parties on the merits of the case, the Presbytery sustain the finding, and does not disclose the relative strength. done me by Dr. Ching Fun of this city, nact door Kwong Lee & Co. For 24 years I suffered with neuralgia on the brain, which baffied the skull of three first-class American physicians. Latterly bronshitis attacked my right lung, and my eyes became awfully inflamed. Despairing of ever being cured I placed myself as a last resort in the hands of Dr. Ching Fun, and after five months treatment I am a well man and feel that I cannot sound the eminent Chinese gentleman's praises too loadly, so that all my countrymen similarly affected may visit,
